

Preschool Explorers: Discovering Our World at John McMillan Preschool

Children have a natural inclination to explore and question. In this class, the children will use this inclination to build their scientific thinking skills - all while having fun!

Science activities, books, and themed art and play will help children discover the world around them. Themes may include: animals, space, dinosaurs, weather and seasons, ocean, nature, etc.

Children must be 3½ by September 30, 2019 to enroll.
